History of CDFEA & CalFire Local 2881

By Ray Snodgrass

The recent U.S. Supreme Court decision (Janus) seems to have many unions scrambling to make sure each does not lose dues money, the life blood of any such organization. I'm not going to get into the finite details of the decision except to say some unions need to be worried especially if they are not properly representing their members.

The California Division of Forestry Employees Association (CDFEA) was formed long before we considered ourselves a "union". Also, long before the state was required to meet & confer in good faith resulting in a binding, written agreement (MOU). And, long before any organization was considered the "exclusive" representative for a group of state employees.

Although the Division of Forestry was granted department status in the mid-1970's, it was not necessary to change the acronym, CDFEA, even though the official name of CDFEA became California Department of Forestry Employees Association.

As CDFEA grew in numbers and the need to improve the wages, hours and working conditions of state firefighters also grew, the desire to become a more cohesive association spread among the CDF firefighting personnel along with many of the non-safety positions supporting the field operations. While membership remained voluntary, individual members realized there was strength in numbers thus joining and remaining members of the association working to improve many aspects of their chosen career. Non-members enjoyed the improved benefits even though they contributed nothing to the efforts. It should be noted only a very small percentage of employees chose not to join. Full membership was well over 90%.

The changes implemented in the late 1970's and early 1980's changed the way CDFEA operated and how membership was maintained. First came

SEERA, the so-called collective bargaining law that changed the complexion of labor relations between the state and state employees. Lines were drawn defining supervisors/managers (non-represented) and rank & file (represented) employees. Decisions were made on the organization having the exclusive right and responsibility to represent defined groups of state employees. Firefighters employed by CDF were granted the right to be represented by the exclusive representative for Bargaining Unit 8. CDFEA won the election to represent Unit 8 and became the exclusive representative.

Provisions in SEERA protected the exclusive representatives (unions) by requiring all members of the bargaining unit to be a member. A provision was included to allow those employees not wishing to pay union dues to opt out of being a full member but still requiring a “fair share” fee be paid to the exclusive representative. While there have been some changes to the methodology of determining the amount the fair-share fee should be, the provision has been in place for nearly 40 years in California.

1982 brought several changes to the association. The affiliation with the International Association of Fire Fighters (IAFF) and the California Professional Fire Fighters (CPF) was consummated with CDFEA becoming IAFF Local 2881. There is no significance to the Local number as it was the next up number for new locals joining the IAFF. The first MOU was negotiated between CDFEA Bargaining Unit 8 and the State.

Even though we called ourselves an association prior to affiliation, we really were a union, we simply chose not to call ourselves a union because to many of us, the word “union” stuck in our craw. However, over time, union has become a household word in the ranks.

In the late 1990’s, CDFEA changed its name to CDF Firefighters. We then were called CDF Firefighters Local 2881. Then, just a couple of years ago, our name changed again to Cal Fire Local 2881.

The official name of CDF did not change but the authority to call the department Cal Fire has certainly changed how we are perceived around the state, nationally and world-wide. I think most of us have noted the change in how the media says our name. Many media outlets never did change from Division to Department. However, now you seldom hear anything but Cal Fire.

The change from Division to Department, the addition of “and Fire Protection” to the name and the subsequent acronym change to Cal Fire would not have happened without the union carrying the ball. First by introduction of necessary legislation and lobbying for the passage of the bills to achieve these positive changes resulting in much better recognition of what our firefighters really do each day.

1985 brought one of the most significant changes to the way our personnel were paid and the determination of overtime. The court determined state employees were subject to the provisions of the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). The impact on Cal Fire employees was drastic as Cal Fire line personnel worked over the 53 hour per week threshold by a substantial margin. These impacts and many other issues will be explained in the continuation of these guest articles.

WE NEED YOUR HELP

At this time our museum is run on a volunteer basis and we need some help. Are you retired and looking for something to keep you busy a couple of days a week? Do you and your kids want a place to do something fun and help the community? Maybe you just want to be part of something bigger. Our museum is growing and we want you be a part of it.

Our current volunteers are doing great things to help us preserve the history of CDF/Cal Fire. Steve Maurer and the Cal Fire Museum wrote and edited “Images of America Cal Fire San Bernardino, Inyo, and Mono Counties.” Copies are available for purchase on our website www.calfiremuseum.com. If you would like to contribute by creating a book for you unit, contact the museum.

Libby Groom has put together a great pictorial history of CDF on the website www.cdfhistory.smugmug.com. There are many opportunities big and small to help this museum grow. How do you want to contribute? Email us as at cdfmuesum@yahoo.com.

If spending time in the museum is not for you, we also have positions available on the board of directors. This would require quarterly meetings and participation in the governance of the museum. To be part of the board of directors you must be an active duty or retired Cal Fire employee. Currently we have three positions open for directors.

As always your donations are welcome as well. There are several ways that you can contribute to the museum. This can be done through payroll deductions, retirement deductions, directly at the museum or through PayPal. All donations are tax deductible.

For those who wish to include the Museum in their Will or Trust.

Below is a Sample of bequest language for your consideration, always consult with your legal advisor.

Legacy Giving & Charitable Gift Planning

Sample bequest language

When including a bequest provision in your will, always use the full legal name and provide the Federal Taxpayer Identification.

The full legal names is:

"Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection"

The Federal taxpayer identification numbers is: 33 - 0941817

Consultation with a legal advisor is encouraged. The following is for illustration only:

Bequests for unrestricted purposes

Unrestricted gifts are to be used for the greatest need at the time determined by the Board of Directors. A general unrestricted bequest is especially valued by the Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection. A proportional bequest is often the best way to accomplish your goals. We would receive a percentage of the estate or the residue of the estate after all other provisions have been met.

Sample language: "I give to {The Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection} {percent} of my estate, or (percent of the rest, residue and remainder) of my estate to be used for the benefit of Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection."

Gifts of securities

For a bequest of securities, the possible language is: "I give {The Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection} all of my shares of XYZ stock or mutual fund to be used for the benefit of Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection."

Specific gifts

For a bequest of cash, the possible language is: "I give to {The Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection} the sum of (Amount) to be used for the benefit of Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection."

Contingent bequest

A contingent bequest takes effect only if the primary intention cannot be met (e.g. if the primary beneficiary does not survive the donor). This ensures that property will not be distributed to unintended beneficiaries.

Sample language: "If (name of primary beneficiary) does not survive me, or shall die during the administration of my estate, or as a result of a common disaster, then I give to {The Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection} all of the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate, to be used for the benefit of Historical Society & Museum for the California Department of Forestry & Fire Protection."
